MRS. JOHN MOODY GUEST SPEAKER AT HOME DEM. MEETING

Mrs. John Moody, state home demonstration president, was a guest speaker at a special meeting of the Hancock County Home Demonstration Council held Friday afternoon, November 6.

Mrs. R. F. Gray, president, introduced Mrs. Moody, who told of some of the highlights of her trip to the National Home Demonstration Convention in Portland, Oregon.

Mrs. Moody told the group that Louisiana had invited the delegation for their 1960 convention and a poll of attending delegates wanted the meeting to be held in Bixby. A definite place had not been decided on she added.

Mrs. Gray called for nominations for the various committee chairmen and the following members were named: Awards chairman, Mrs. K. T. Ireland; Citizenship, Mrs. Earl Gates; Legislature, Mrs. Phillip Hayes; Conservation, Mrs. Louis Moreau; Health, Mrs. Myron Smith; Safety, Mrs. W. A. Gasper; family, Mrs. Norma Burdorf; International relations, Mrs. H. Ogden; flower and vegetable show, Mrs. Adrian Chagnard, co-chairman; Mrs. J. W. Wilkerson; dress revue, Mrs. Katherine Eccles, co-chairman, Mrs. E. L. Vauseur; fair and exhibits, Mrs. Marjorie Bounds.

Mrs. Gray gave the installation address preceding the installation of Mrs. J. V. Rousseau, president; Mrs. Katherine Eccles, vice-president; and Mrs. J. W. Wilkerson, publicity chairman.

A social hour, with refreshments, followed the business session.

MISSISSIPPI STATE CONFERENCE

STATE IS AMONG TWENTY CHOSEN FOR PROJECT

Mississippi is slated to be among approximately 20 states participating in the largest medical statistical study ever undertaken. Basic purpose of study will be to learn why some people may be more likely to get cancer than others. The information to be obtained is also designed to test many theories about cancer causes and to clarify certain known facts about the disease. This project will involve about 10,000 families in Mississippi and is to extend over a period of six years.

Mary Beth Pyron, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Pyron of Flora, Miss., has just been chosen national poster girl for the New March of Dimes 1959 campaign in January. Her picture will appear on millions of posters (above), canisters and coin collectors in every town and village of the country, symbolizing the New March of Dimes' struggle against heart defects,rickets, polio, diseases that affect one in every four U. S. families. Mary Beth was born with an open spine and water on the brain. Medical science knows no way of helping her. Hope lies in scientific research supported by the New March of Dimes. Mary Beth is a sunny, affectionate child, anxious to ride her new walking horse (left). Her brother Tommy, 4, is a normal child.

U. Of Miss. Inaugurating
Journalism Lecture Series
By Newspapermen

University, Miss. (Special) — The Department of Journalism at the University of Mississippi is inaugurating a journalism lecture series which will bring to the campus some of the outstanding newspapermen of the Mid-South during the current year, announced Dr. Sam Taber, department chairman.

The state tree farm chairman explained that all agencies whose work touches on forestry co-operate in the program. The tree farm program is sponsored in Mississippi by the Mississippi Center for Continuation Study here. Sessions are scheduled to begin at 4:30 p. m. in order that all University journalism students and visiting students from high schools and junior colleges may attend, Professor Talbert said.

The talks will deal with journalism and its place in modern society.

Lectures will be held in the auditorium of the Mississippi Center for Continuation Study here. Sessions are scheduled to begin at 4:30 p. m. in order that all University journalism students and visiting students from high schools and junior colleges may attend, Professor Talbert said.

Dates have been set for two other addresses in coming weeks. Dick Sanders, news editor of Television Station WLET, Jackson, will talk on Nov. 23. Purser Hewitt, executive editor of the Jackson Clarion Ledger, will speak on Dec. 7.

Other speakers will be announced as dates are confirmed Dr. Talbert said.

The first series address on Nov. 16 will be Paul Pittman of Tylerston, editor and publisher of 2 Mississippi weekly newspapers. Mr. Pittman, an Ole Miss alumnus, has gained wide attention with his prize-winning Tylerston Times. His latest honor was appointment to the National Advisory Council of the American Society of Journalism School Administrators.

Applications for tree farm membership may be obtained from local offices of the agricultural and forestry agencies or direct from MFA headquarters, Suite 447, King Edward Hotel, Jackson.

Other speakers will be announced as dates are confirmed Dr. Talbert said.

Hancock County Girl Scout Council
in Laurel, Miss., Nov. 17

In a historic occasion for the Girl Scout Movement in its 15 years of South Mississippi, the first meeting of the council will take place in Laurel on Tuesday, Nov. 17, when the Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council is officially activated.

This charter meeting will be held in the First Methodist Church on Fifth Avenue, directly north of Pinehurst Hotel, beginning at 10 a. m.

Official formation of the council this month comes two years after the groundwork for its organization was laid at a meeting in Hattiesburg.

The council will serve the counties of Jeff Davis, Covington, Jones, Wayne, Forrest, Marion, Lamar, Stone, George, Harrison, Hancock, Jackson and Pearl River.

There will be four districts and 28 neighborhoods with the council serving a total of 3,474 girls in 239 troops as of December 21, 1958. Adult membership is 871.

The development committee has 29 members and 16 alternates. Population of the jurisdiction is 413,000.

Attending the meeting will be Girl Scout adults and friends of scouting.

Voting delegates will be members and alternates of the Development Committee, sub-committee members, and neighborhood chairmen and elected delegates from the neighborhoods.

Miss Alyce Nelson, Memphis, Tenn., regional director, will speak at the event which will also be attended by National board members and regional committee members.

The program follows: Flag ceremony, Keesler Neighborhood, Biloxi Council; welcome, Mrs. Donald Gray, Laurel; review of project and purpose of meeting, Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Bay St. Louis; regional committee; ratification of articles of incorporation and by-laws; plan of work and budget; report of nominating committee and election; charter obligations and rights; introduction of speaker, Mrs. James Ansley, Live Oak Council; speech by Miss Nelson; dissolution of development committee; committee appointments; charge to new board, Mrs. R. M. Hedderman, Jr., Jackson, national board; retiring of colors.

Immediately following, a board meeting will be held.

MANUFACTURING EMPLOYMENT AT ALL-TIME HIGH

Manufacturing employment now stands at an all-time high in Mississippi. A reported 120,500 Mississippians are engaged in manufacturing. The figure of 120,500 is estimated to be 17 per cent of the total number of people now employed in Mississippi. That's the highest proportion Mississippi has ever had engaged in manufacturing pursuits. The Census of 1940 showed 9.5 per cent of Mississippi's employed engaged in manufacturing. In 1950, the percentage had risen to 12.6 per cent. Now it's 17 per cent. This is convincing evidence that Mississippi's industrial program is going well. Figures show a total employment now of 707,500. Agricultural employment totals 320,000, or 45.5 per cent of this total, leaving 37.5 per cent engaged in other non-agricultural employment.

A MOST PROMISING AREA

Faced with the brightest future of any region on earth, the south is expected to set the pace for American progress during the next half century. The south has many natural advantages in its minerals, soil and a plentiful water supply. As the center of the dynamic South, Mississippi can set the pace for our region by capitalizing on our resources, advantages, and opportunities to the fullest extent. Careful planning, bold imagination, and close teamwork are prime essentials in working toward a brighter and more prosperous future for Mississippi.

Planting Of Seedlings
Gulfcoast Way To Far Land
Info Timber Production

Planting tree seedlings is the oldest known way to put land into timber production, and Area forester Marion Parker of Hancock County.

Parker went on to say that with an investment of $4.00 or less per acre, landowners can begin timber production on their idle or unproductive lands. Overall cost of tree planting ranges from $10 - $15 per thousand seedlings. Under the 1960 ACP Program, the government will reimburse the landowner up to $9 per thousand seedlings planted. Therefore, the net cost to the landowner should be $8 or less per thousand seedlings planted.

Since only 800 seedlings per acre are normally needed, the per acre cost should be $4.80 or less per acre. Thus, for a net investment of less than $4.80 per acre, a landowner can convert idle land to timber production which should produce on the average one cord per acre per year. Some areas will produce more growth while others will produce slightly less growth than the above due to variations in location, soil, drainage, competitive vegetation, etc. Landowners may realize their first income from thinning for pulpwood at the age of 12 - 15 years.

It is necessary for the landowner to secure prior approval for cost sharing. This is done by contacting the County ASC Office Manager. All agricultural workers in the County have helpful information that will assist those desiring to plant trees.

Howard F. Simmons, County Agent, at Agricultural Building, Telephone HO-7-4831, P. O. Box 112, Bay St. Louis or Hugh Sanford, SCS, at Agricultural Bldg. Bay St. Louis, Miss.

"God Is My Partner"
At The Star Theatre
This Sunday and Monday

God Is My Partner, the new Hollywood "Awards-Winner" and one of Hollywood's most distinguished dramatic actors, leads the cast in "God Is My Partner," a warm, witty story of one man's faith and determination which will be shown on Sunday and Monday at the Star Theatre. Co-starring in this Cinemasscope picture, released by Twentieth Century Fox, are John Hoyt, Marion Ross and Texas White.

The story of Charles Francis Royal deals with the eccentricities of a great surgeon who turns millionaire in such a peculiar way that his nephew, forced an injunction on his bank account and hires a lawyer to prove him mentally incompetent. His niece, played by Marion Ross, who is a lawyer, undertakes his defense.

In the course of the trial it is brought out that Brennan, as "Uncle Charlie," has a deeper insight into human nature than the people who think him crazy. By giving his money away to bachelors, thieves and ne'er-do-wells he proves that people need help, even undeserving ones, and that the need for self-respect and love is more important than money. He puts into practice his belief that everyone should give to God from the heart.

In bringing this warm-hearted story to the screen Director William F. Claxton has let the classic message of "Faith, hope, charity—the greatest of these is charity" shine through the amusing and tender incidents.

In the supporting cast of "God Is My Partner" are such stellar players as Nelson Leigh, Charles Lane, Ellen Corby, Paul Cavanagh, Nancy Kulp, John Harmon and Charles Gray.
